Clinical Social Worker In Gerontology (CSW-G)

DEFINITION OF CLINICAL SOCIAL WORKER IN GERONTOLOGY

This certification specifies the following requisite competencies for the Clinical Social Worker in Gerontology (CSW-G):

- Comprehensive Bio-psychosocial Assessment
- Clinical Intervention
- Changes in Physiological and Neurological function
- Coordination with Care Providers
- Service Planning
- Maintaining appropriate records and documentation

Throughout history, the phase of life commonly known as "old age" has been continually redefined. As medical science pushes the limits of human longevity, the period of time from birth to death has gradually increased in industrialized nations. Our profession has refined our understanding of the stages of human development from infancy, through childhood, adolescence, and adulthood. However, the continuum from "middle age" to "old age" has not been well defined. Only recently have those who study human development acknowledged that older adults have distinct characteristics that can be differentiated from earlier stages of adulthood.

Clinical social work practice with older adults often encompasses a broad range of functions. Whether working in an organization, for an agency, or in private practice, the Clinical Social Worker in Gerontology (CSW-G) must be knowledgeable about current research and evidencebased best practices in the specialty area. Clinical social workers must remain aware of available formal and informal support systems that are available for their clients. In order to effectively advocate and support clients, the social work clinician must also understand existing policies and be able to link clients with accessible community-based services. Clinical social work practice with older adults requires advanced skill in the assessment and intervention of client-specific issues related to changes in all three of the major domains: biological, psychological, and social functioning. Specialized knowledge and expertise are required to address the specific challenges of the aging process and support client self-determination in key decisions promoting independence, autonomy, and dignity. All social workers in gerontology must be knowledgeable about the aging process and the issues that older adults and their caregivers face.

A holistic approach is required to manage the biopsychosocial changes that are occurring in this population. The specific body of knowledge, a diverse skill set, and understanding of the ethical issues particular to this age group are required to help older adults navigate the numerous transitions of this life stage.

AFFIRMATION OF PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS

Have you ever been found in violation of a state social work licensing law or regulation or the NASW Code of Ethics, or are there any cases pending against you?

O NO

• YES. I understand that NASW certifications will not be awarded until violations are satisfactorily reviewed. (Attach an explanation of the corrective action taken and the current status of this matter.)

I certify that my social work practice conforms to the NASW Code of Ethics, the NASW Standards for Social Work Services in Long-Term Care Facilities, and the NASW Standards for Continuing Professional Education. I further agree to adhere to the NASW Code of Ethics, the NASW Standards for Social Work Services in Long-Term Care Facilities, and the NASW Standards for Social Work Services in Long-Term Care Facilities, and the NASW Standards for Social Work Services in Long-Term Care Facilities, and the NASW Standards for Continuing Professional Education, and to voluntarily participate, if requested to do so, in any NASW adjudication proceedings involving alleged violations of the NASW Code of Ethics, and to be subject to any verification process established by NASW concerning practice and continuing education standards.

I understand that refusal or failure to participate in an adjudication proceeding or verification process may be grounds for revocation of this certification. I further understand that NASW reserves the right to revoke NASW social work certifications of any person found to have violated the NASW Code of Ethics or found to be non-compliant with the NASW Standards for Social Work Services in Long-Term Care Facilities or the NASW Standards for Continuing Professional Education, or whose state license to practice has been terminated or suspended by a duly authorized state regulatory agency.

STATEMENT OF UNDERSTANDING

I understand that my certification depends on successful completion of the certification procedure and my ability to meet all requirements and qualifications. I certify that the information contained in this application is true, complete, and correct to the best of my knowledge and is made in good faith. I further understand that if any information is later determined to be false, NASW reserves the right to revoke any certification that has been granted on the basis thereof. I further understand that NASW reserves the right to terminate the certification of any person who is found to be in violation of the NASW Code of Ethics or state social work laws or regulations.

I understand that continued use of the Social Worker in Gerontology, Advanced Social Worker in Gerontology, or Clinical Social Worker in Gerontology designation depends on payment of the certification renewal fee, and such other requirements as NASW may stipulate. If at any time, my Social Worker in Gerontology, Advanced Social Worker in Gerontology, or Clinical Social Worker in Gerontology status is not active, I may not designate myself as a Social Worker in Gerontology, Advanced Social Worker in Gerontology, or Clinical Social Worker in Gerontology.

I hereby release, discharge, and exonerate NASW and its directors, officers, members, examiners, representatives, and agents, including the Competence Certification Commission, from any actions, suits, obligations, damages, claims, or demands arising out of, or in connection with, any aspect of the application process including results or decisions on the part of NASW and/or its agents which may include a decision to not issue me a certificate.
