

Are you a visionary leader?

The National Association of Social Workers (NASW) is currently seeking an experienced and compelling social work professional to serve as Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of this $80 million national professional association. NASW is comprised of several different organizations including a 501(c)(6) membership organization, a 501(c)(3) foundation, a political action committee, a policy think tank, a professional press, and a for-profit insurance company as well as 56 chapters. Since its inception in 1955, NASW has been dedicated to the professional growth and development of its members, the creation and maintenance of professional standards, and the advancement of sound social policies. The CEO will build upon NASW's significant record of accomplishments, sound financial management, and high quality programs, expanding its reach, effectiveness and impact.

The ideal candidate will hold a degree in social work as well as a doctorate. She/he will have a track record of successful senior management experience within an association, an agency, academia or a similar organization. The ideal candidate will possess outstanding leadership, negotiation and communication skills with a high level of energy and enthusiasm for the profession of social work. She/he will be business savvy with a thorough understanding of not-for-profit and for-profit financial management, fundraising and program effectiveness metrics. Direct experience working with a board of directors and with a unionized workforce is highly desirable.

This is an exciting opportunity to provide strategic and visionary leadership to an outstanding and well-established association. Reporting directly to the NASW Board of Directors, the CEO will ensure that NASW continues to be relevant, proactive, and a leader in social work and the broader community. This is one of the most influential roles for individuals committed to advancing the profession of social work available in the country.
