Dear Chairman Aderholt, Ranking Member DeLauro, Chairwoman Baldwin, and Ranking Member Capito:

The undersigned 68 organizations represent a coalition of education, disability, and other organizations dedicated to fulfilling the funding promise for the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). On behalf of approximately 7.5 million students with disabilities, their teachers, specialized instructional support personnel, parents, school boards and administrators, we urge you to provide the maximum increase possible in funding for IDEA as part of a fair and proportional allocation for the final Fiscal Year (FY) 2025 LHHS-Education appropriations bill. Specifically, we ask that you provide no less than $16.259 billion for IDEA Part B Grants to States, putting IDEA on a glidepath to full funding, while holding all other education programs harmless from funding cuts.

As you know, when IDEA was first enacted in 1975, Congress anticipated that the cost of providing education to IDEA-eligible students would be approximately twice that of the cost to educate non-disabled students. Thus, Congress authorized a Federal funding contribution of 40 percent of the national average per pupil expenditure (APPE). In exchange for this Federal funding, states and districts must ensure that all eligible students are provided a free appropriate public education in the least restrictive environment. However, the closest the federal government has come to reaching its 40 percent commitment was 18 percent in 2004-2006, and in recent years federal funding has leveled off and even been cut.

The IDEA Part B grants to states program is currently funded at $14.21 billion via annual appropriations, approximately 10.7 percent of APPE. The chronic underfunding of IDEA by the federal government places an additional funding burden on states, local school districts, and taxpayers to pay for needed services, and school programs that are also beneficial to students with disabilities. Funding programs that serve students with disabilities is one of the best measures of Congress’ desire to offer a quality education to every single student, and the FY 2025 appropriations bill is a first step in the right direction toward helping Congress realize its IDEA funding commitment.
Moreover, the number of IDEA-eligible children has increased significantly in recent years. The most recent data from the U.S. Department of Education shows that the number of children served by IDEA increased 3.8% from 2021 to 2022¹. This increase in child count, coupled with no significant increases for IDEA, has resulted in a lower average Federal share per child and a lower percentage of APPE.

The full benefit of IDEA Part B investment is only realized when Congress also recognizes the importance of increasing funding for other parts of IDEA to adequately support our nation’s students with disabilities. To fully achieve the goal of providing a free appropriate public education for all students, we must provide sufficient funding to support early intervention services, transition services, professional preparation and development, and other critical components within IDEA.

We strongly support a prioritized and meaningful investment in IDEA, without negatively impacting funding for other education programs, and urge Congress to provide a significant increase for IDEA Part B State Grants as you negotiate the FY 2025 appropriations package.

Sincerely,
